once you register.

Based on her groundbreaking book and training curriculum, Why Will No One Play with Me? Caroline Maguire, M.Ed., PCC will provide a framework for parent training to support social emotional learning and bridge between home and school.

Helping children manage their own behaviors and emotions, build healthy relationships and make good decisions will be detailed in this presentation. You'll explore the social emotional challenges facing children of all ages, discover learning through play, stress management strategies, the importance of SEL in a crisis and adult wellbeing. Participants will learn how to infuse social emotional learning in daily life without pullouts.
