NEWS & INSIGHTS FROM
LEAGUE SCHOOL OF GREATER BOSTON

Join Us to Celebrate our Autism Champions

Join us for our Night of Champions Gala when we honor key organizations and people who have supported the school and its mission of helping students with autism develop to their fullest potential:

Thursday, September 15
6 - 9 PM

Four Points Sheraton, Norwood, MA

The evening includes an auction, reception, dinner, and program moderated by Jon Meterparel, ESPN play-by-play broadcaster and League School Ambassador. Learn about this year's champions and buy tickets.

League School Exploring First SCERTS Research Study Opportunity

Encouraging Social Communication and Emotional Regulation through Transactional Supports (SCERTS®) is the educational framework used by the League School. “Every day we see the progress our students make with the SCERTS educational model, but the limited research that’s available focuses only on young students. We are pursuing a research study that can help validate the benefits we’re seeing,” said Chrissy Bunnell, Speech-Language Pathology Department Head. Find out about this research project.

Falmouth Road Race Runners Share Why They're Running

Twenty-four team members are running to support the League School in this year's 50th Anniversary of the Falmouth Road Race. On Sunday, August 21, they will step off from Woods Hole and run to Falmouth Heights. All proceeds they raise will go toward the League School's technology and community activity needs.

After 3 Year Absence Summer Fun Day is Back in Grand Form on Friday, August 12

Summer Fun Day is an event students look forward to all year long, and we had to scale it back the last few years to ensure safety during the pandemic. This year, it's back – bigger and better than ever! Our students look forward to welcoming parents and guests back on campus to enjoy this fun-filled day. Find out what's planned.

Residential Program's Ice Cream Social Delights all and Celebrates Summer Kick-off

The Residential Program celebrated the end of the school year and the start of summer vacation with an ice cream social on Thursday, June 23. Students, their parents, and guests gathered for the first time since the pandemic outside of the Residential Program campus to enjoy delicious ice cream. Discover all the fun summer Residential program activities planned.
